Revised 10/10/05

The Print periodicals are shelved alphabetically by title and are located near the copy room on the 2nd floor.

The online databases are available from the Tomball College and Community Library's web site at <http://tclibrary.nhmccd.edu>. To use the databases from home, select the database you need, then enter the barcode number shown on the back of your college ID.

The dates shown in the chart below indicate the dates the full-text articles are available in the databases or in print. Please note that nursing students are not allowed to use materials older than five years unless they have received permission from the course instructor.

The symbol  indicates where you will find indexing for the journals that are only available in print.

Some journals have a publisher's embargo which delays the release of full-text articles in the online databases for one to twelve months.

Check with a librarian if you have any problems locating an article or a journal.
